ABBITT WAS EASY WINNER

Hopkinsville High School Sent A Winner This Time.

CREATED QUITE A SENSATION

Gleaner Says His Oration Was Equal To a Chautauqua Lecture.

Henry Abbitt, representing the Hopkinsville High School, won the sixth annual Oratorical contest of the Western High Schools held at Henderson on last Friday night. This is the first time that the local High School has been awarded the prize and they are justly proud of the honor. There were seven orators in this contest, representing the following cities, Paducah, Madisonville, Owensboro, Princeton, Dawson Springs, Henderson and Hopkinsville. The orations were said to be the best in the history of the oratorical association and so it is a double honor to win under these conditions.

The Henderson Gleaner has the following to say in regard to the contest:

"The Uncrowned Hero" was the subject of the oration delivered by the winner, Henry Abbitt. His every word was distinct, with the appearance of perfect confidence inspired by ability and speaking unaffectedly but forcefully told of the heroism of Sam Davis, Confederate Army scout, who was caught and executed when he refused to reveal the name of the general from whom came the papers which were found on him. "Faithful to his God, faithful to his cause and faithful to his friends, he was a real man and in the life of the civil war scout was a lesson which should be learned by every man" said the speaker.

No campaigner of years' experience or Chautauqua lecturer could have been more at ease than the Hopkinsville speaker; his elocution was perfect and his handling of the subject masterly. When he had finished, the hearts of many visitors sank, because they realized his address could not be improved upon.

"In announcing the winner, Judge Flournoy of Morganfield, one of the judges, declared the addresses were the best he ever heard delivered by young men of their age and said it was difficult to select the winner. He presented Mr. Abbitt with the gold medal while the winner was showered with congratulations of defeated but good natured orators. That the decision was in accord with the opinion of the majority of those present was indicated by the outburst of applause which greeted the announcement."

The judges were: Judge Flournoy of Morganfield, Prof. Olsson of Hawesville and Prof. Oliver of Seebree.

PARK WORK

Now In The Hands Of a Landscape Artist.

Mr. John G. Troester, of the landscape department of the Wagner Park Nurseries, Sidney, Ohio, arrived in the city Sunday and yesterday began the work of putting the two Latham parks in order. The trees in Virginia park will be trimmed and new ones set out, the shrubbery will be located and later planted and the grounds will be beautified. Peace park will be platted and tree-planting arranged for during the present month. Work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Much of the preliminary work has already been done by M. E. Boales and plans will soon be ready for the buildings on the two parks.

WILSON AND MARSHALL TAKE OFFICE TODAY

Washington In Gala Attire And Record-Breaking Crowd Will Witness The Event.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—President-elect Wilson and family left Princeton this morning accompanied by 500 students of Princeton College. The presidential party consisted of the President-elect, his wife and their three daughters, Prof. Stockton Axson, a brother of Mrs. Wilson; Fitzwilliam McMillan Woodrow and Miss Hazel Bones, both cousins of Mr. Wilson. At West Philadelphia Mrs. Annie Howe, a sister of the President-elect, joined the party, escorted by Col. Thomas H. Birch, personal aide to Mr. Wilson during his term as Governor and now aide to Maj. Gen. Wood for the inaugural parade.

Escorted by the students, the party went in automobiles to a hotel near the White House. On Tuesday morning the Princeton students will escort Mr. Wilson to the White House from the hotel, thus completing the final part of their duties as official escort. At the White House they will give a Princeton cheer for President Taft, Yale '78, and sing "Old Nassau" in honor of the President-elect.

Vice President-elect Marshall has been in Washington for several days.

SHIES HIS CASTOR IN

Judge J. Walter Knight Asks His Party For An Indorsement.

Judge J. Walter Knight, county judge of Christian county, has announced his candidacy for re-election, subject to the primary in August. Judge Knight was elected as the Democratic nominee in 1909 and has filled the responsible office of judge with ability and with a conscientious regard for its duties that are sure to meet with the approval of the people. He brought to the office considerable experience on the bench, having served a term as city judge and also a term as city attorney. His business methods and careful scrutiny have been of much benefit to the county. Judge Knight is a loyal Democrat, a good campaign speaker and a popular leader. He will strengthen the Democratic ticket greatly in the coming contest for county offices.

FINE CROP

Brings Top Prices On The Loose Floor.

A. H. Harned, of Honey Grove, sold his entire crop of tobacco on the loose floor yesterday at the record price of $11.25 for leaf, $10 for seconds and $6 for lugs. This is the top of the market for this season. Mr. Harned is a successful young farmer, raises fine crops and always gets the highest prices.

RIVES FOR ATTORNEY

He Concludes To Keep Out of The Senatorial Contest.

Former Senator Frank Rives, who has been considering the matter of seeking another term in the senate, has changed the trend of his ambition and concluded to run for County Attorney instead. His announcement for the Democratic nomination appears today. Mr. Rives is prominent as a lawyer, has been Master Commissioner, served a term as State Senator and is a successful man of affairs in several lines. He has always been a staunch Democrat and has been a strong defender of party principles at all times. He is a good speaker and a vigorous campaigner. He will in all likelihood have no opposition for the nomination for County Attorney and if made the standard bearer of his party promises to carry it to victory.

Thaw To Try Again.

Another habeas corpus writ has been obtained in behalf of Harry K. Thaw. Justice Guy signed a writ directing the acting superintendent of Matewan Hospital to produce the slayer of Stanford White before a justice of the State Supreme Court in New York.

Telephone Franchise.

This afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, John C. Duffy, County Attorney, will sell to the highest bidder a right to maintain a telephone system throughout Christian county. The franchise is to run for a term of twenty years and will be sold in front of the court house.

DUFFY FOR SENATOR

New Candidate From Christian County is Given a Clear Track.

County Attorney John C. Duffy, who has filled that office for eight years, will not be a candidate for re-election but is announced by authority as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senator in the district composed of Christian and Hopkins counties. All other candidates from this county have retired and Mr. Duffy will be given a clear track so far as this county is concerned, and as it is Christian county's turn to furnish the candidate, his nomination seems to be assured.

Mr. Duffy has been a party leader for years and has been a tower of strength to the ticket in two fiercely fought campaigns. His career in office has been very much to his credit and his taste for public affairs now leads him into higher fields. As an orator he has taken high rank among Democratic speakers and has done much party service on the stump in state campaigns. As yet Mr. Duffy has no announced opposition.

JOHN B. CHILTON

Is Surely Making Good as Warden at Eddyville.

John B. Chilton has demonstrated his efficiency as warden of the Eddyville prison. During the first six months of his administration the records show $3,700 excess in receipts for prison labor over the corresponding period last year. And in addition to this, his expense account for the same period was $8,200 less.

MASHERS IN BAD SCRAPE

One Of the Young Men Was Released Yesterday On a Bond of $750.

HITE STILL CONFINED IN JAIL

Charged With a Felony and So Far Unable to Give the Required Bond.

The two young traveling men arrested last week for detaining two girls employed at the telephone exchange, are in a very serious scrape. They were promptly indicted by the grand jury.

E. B. Littlepage, aged 21, was indicted for assault in taking hold of one of the girls, and remained in jail in default of a $750 bond until yesterday, when his grandfather made bond for him.

J. B. Hite, of Morganfield, who first gave the name of Rush, was indicted for detaining a woman and his bond fixed at $1500, which he has not given. Littlepage is charged with a misdemeanor and Hite with a felony.

The witnesses against them are Misses Marguerite and Lena Gomer and Flora McElroy. The young men tied to force their attentions upon them as they walked along the street near the Seventh street bridge. One of the girls escaped from them and the young men, it is said, took hold of the other two, and Hite is alleged to have made an insulting proposal. The defendants have employed attorneys and deny any intention of improper conduct toward the young women, and say they merely walked a short distance with them on the street.

The trials have been set for the 22nd day of court, but Littlepage wants an earlier trial.

A Hero To The End.

Alfred Benham, a Confederate veteran 72 years old, was the "elevator boy" in the Ingram department house burned in Chicago Feb. 11. He continued to operate the elevator during the fire, occasionally going outside, only to return and make another trip when more occupants came to the elevator. Among those rescued by him was an old lady in an invalid's chair. The old fellow known as "Dad" could not be found after the fire and some one remembered having seen him outside the building. A search was made for him by detectives but he could not be found in the city. Three weeks later in moving the debris his mangled body was found under his elevator shaft. He had made one trip too many into the burning building as a rescuer of others. While a soldier he was decorated on the field of battle for heroic conduct and the old fellow "made good" as a hero until his curtain went down.

HOPKINSVILLE MAN

In the Limelight in Library Affairs in Louisville.

The Times, of last Friday, contained an article in regard to the Polytechnic Institute turning over to Free Public Library a piece of valuable property on Fourth Avenue. Mr. John Stites, a former Hopkinsville man, laid down an ultimatum that if the first named institution did not at once make a transfer of the property to the Library he would proceed to take the matter before the proper tribunals. Mr. Stites has for many years been identified with the educational interests of Louisville and the squabble over the property mentioned has been a matter that has caused him much annoyance. Mr. Stites generally gets what he goes after.

After Hookworm.

For several weeks the Misses Fenwick, from the Rockefeller Institute,
New York, will be the guests of the Western Hospital. These ladies are microscopists and are here under the auspices of the State Board of Health to examine the inmates of the institution for hookworm. They want the physicians of the county to feel perfectly free to bring to them any persons they believe to be afflicted with the disease. They have been to Louisville, the Lakeland Asylum and several other places in the State.
Their examinations are all free of cost and they would like for the afflicted to avail themselves of the opportunity given by the State Board of Health.

The March Wide World Magazine.

The Wide World Magazine for March contains stories and articles dealing with places in all the quarters of the globe. Among the narratives is one entitled "Expelled from Mexico" which is decided tropical.
It appears that a few months ago an article appeared in the Wide World entitled "The Master-Bandit" which aroused the ire of President Madero's Government with the result that the author, Mr. Harry H. Dunn, was arrested, confined for thirty-six hours without food or water in a "filthy, verminous cell," and communication with his Consul or Ambassador and finally sent under guard to the frontier where he was expelled as a "pernicious foreigner."
In an article Mr. Dunn describes his trying experiences with the high-handed officials of the Mexican Government. Other art clea and stories include "A Jungle Tragedy," "The Lake of Fire," "A Miracle Wrought by Water," "The Cliff Dwellers of the Arctic," "Through the Wilds of Asia," "In Peril in the Wilderness," "Frontier Life in South America,"
"The Stowaway" and "The Track-Layers."

Thought Samuel Was a Thief.
It was the Scripture lesson. The subject was the call of Samuel. The children had sung, "Hushed Was the Evening Hymn," which describes the call. The teacher then asked a few questions, one being, "What did Samuel do while Eli was asleep?"
"Stole his watch," was the prompt reply from one of the girls.
The teacher, somewhat annoyed at such an apparently senseless answer, called for the second verse:
His watch the Temple child,
The little Levite kept.
Now came the child's turn.
"Please, teacher, doesn't that mean that Samuel kept the old man's watch for himself?"—Strand.

HERE IS CURE FOR INSOMNIA

Wrap a Wet Bandage Around the Leg to Draw Blood From the Head, Says a Physician.

A curious cure for sleeplessness has recently been reported. A piece of calico, about 18 inches wide and 2 3/4 yards long is rolled up like a bandage, and a third of it wrung out of cold water. The leg is then bandaged with this, the wet parts being carefully covered by several layers of the dry part, as well as by a layer of gutta percha tissue, and a stocking drawn on over the whole.

This causes dilation of the vessels of the leg, thus diminishing the blood in the head and producing sleep. It has been found by Winternitz that the temperature in the ear passage begins to fall a quarter of an hour after the application of the bandage, the decrease amounting to 0.4 degrees C., and the normal not being again reached for from 1 1/2 to two hours afterwards.

The writer has employed this means of producing sleep for a couple of years and finds it especially useful in cases where there is congestion of the brain. Sometimes he has found it necessary to reapply the bandage every three or four hours, as it dried.—Family Doctor.

AT SCHOOL

"Is there any reason, Willie, why you cannot pronounce 'core' properly? Suppose I divide this apple among you. If you had the part that holds the seeds what would you call it?"

"Aw! I'd call it a shame."

REAL REASON.

"I wonder why that rich young widow seemed to really mourn her elderly husband."

"She didn't mourn him. She was mourning because she doesn't look well in black."

LESSON FROM THE PAST.

Alexander the Great had conquered Persia. "I'm going to use this country," he said, "for a doormat."

Here we perceive the origin of the Persian rug.

HIS SPECIALTY.

"Scribblerus was quite incensed before he devoted himself to scientific subjects and you said he was a flash writer."

"So he is; he writes about mete-ors."

DAD WAS "WISE."

Girl (anxiously)—Well, what did papa say?

Impecunious Lover—He said he'd be delighted to have me for a son-in-law, only he couldn't afford it.

IN THE SMALL HOURS.

He—Do not provoke me with angry reproaches, woman, or I may use strong words.

She—You've got the right kind of breath to use them with.

WHAT FEBRUARY?

Duer—Say, old chap, let me have a fiver, will you? I'll let you have it back before the end February.

Dunn—February of what year?

INHERITED.

Pa—Son, you talk too much.

Son—Well, pa, am I to blame for your marrying into a talkative family?

HIS PRACTICE.

"Did you see where a dentist is going west to get a shore in a $7,000,000 gold mine?"

"That shows the advantage of keeping on practicing at a pull."

THE USUAL WAY.

"Are you still keeping your good resolutions?"

"Yes; I'm keeping them quiet."

Animals Have a Sort of Rough Moral System.

The Little Dog With Bone Is Often Filled With Courage in Moral Consciousness of the Justice of His Claim.

Every animal lover can tell numerous stories illustrating the devotion of animals to their human protectors.
Anecdotes of one animal risking its life to save another are rare, but still sufficiently numerous and authentic to leave no doubt as to the occasional existence of a deep love between animals. But any close observer of nature will know that there exists throughout the brute creation a sort of rough moral system which, in the case of domestic animals, translates itself into what really amounts to a code of etiquette.

The old proverb, "The dog with a bone has many friends," is nothing else than a recognition of canine etquette, says Tit-Bits. It does not matter how small is the dog with the bone.
It may be a Pomeranian surrounded by mastiffs. The mastiffs will still remain friendly. They will hover round the Pomeranian, perhaps whining for a morsel (which is never offered), and eagerly picking up any splinter that may be dropped, when nothing would be easier than to bowl the little dog over and seize the bone.

You will notice, further, that the little dog becomes filled with a new courage, presumably in the moral consciousness of the justice of his claim, and will growl and even snap at a dog he otherwise fears if the latter should come too close.

But the moment a dog drops his bone a new rule of etiquette operates, for it becomes the duty of the first dog which cares to pick it up. True, a dispute will sometimes arise as to whether the bone has actually been dropped "within the meaning of the act." But once this is clear the law of the bone will be observed by all save the exceptional "hooligan" dog, met with occasionally, which outrages all the laws of dogdom, even to the biting of his master.

Another rigid social law is that no gentleman dog must ever, in any circumstances, offer violence to a lady dog. It is not the slightest use to plead that "she began it." If a female should so far forget herself, as not infrequently happens, the mere male has no alternative but enduring her snaps save seeking safety in flight.

Of course a dog, being only canine after all, will sometimes, under severe provocation, break this law. But if he is one of a pack it is ten to one that the other males will set upon him and metre out severe punishment for his grave offense.

Moreover, although a dog is quite entitled to rush suddenly upon a foe and take him unawares, he may not do so if the other is eating or drinking.

Dogs are by no means the only animals that have a distinct sense of property. The squirrel regards his tree much as the dog regards his bone.
He has a definite right to it, both as a dwelling and a means of subsistence, and on the rare occasions when another squirrel disputes the right or blunders accidentally on his tree he will fight fiercely in defense of that which the law of the woods allows him to regard as his own. If he wishes to forage afield, he must choose a tree that has not been appropriated by one of his tribe.

Foxes, too, have a clear knowledge of the "difference between mine and thine." Farmers may not have noticed it, perhaps, but this is probably because it only applies to other foxes.
Nearly all breeds have their own areas, and refrain from trespassing on those of their neighbors.

Mr. Thompson Seton, the well-known naturalist and hunter, has stated that among a particular breed of foxes, the blue foxes of Alaska, which are monogamous, there exists such a respect for the "marriage tie" that if a female loses her mate she will practically never take another. He tells the story of a hunter who, in all seriousness, remarked: "Until we can break down the high moral standard of these foxes our profits will be greatly curtailed."

What It Meant.

He had asked her father for her hand and had been duly accepted.

Naturally he was inclined to be jubilar, the girl being pretty and her father reputed rich.

"Oh, well," said the latter, presently, as he carefully inspected the clear Havana the youth handed him, "you needn't be so unduly puffed up over it.
You're the sixteenth youngster I've accepted for a son-in-law this year, and I expect two more tomorrow."

"Wh-why, what does this mean?"
stammered the youth.

"It means," replied the shocking old poppy, "amusement for the girl and cigars for me."—Photo Bits.

Mr. Gladstone.

It is singular to remark how persistently the title "Mr." cleaves to the name of Gladstone. Fourteen years have elapsed since he died, but he is still "Mr. Gladstone," as witness Mr.
Asquith's Nottingham speech. Is this a proof of still vital personality or a commemoration of his strict refusal of any other title? We talk of Disraeli and of Palmerston, but seldom of Gladstone. It is a curious piece of popular psychology.—Fall Mall Gazette.

BERLIN MUST BEHAVE ITSELF

Strict Regulations as to Conduct Have Been Made, and They Will Be Rigidly Enforced.

The German police are determined that Berlin shall behave itself, that henceforth it shall be an orderly and a desirable place of residence.
To this end it is forbidden—our old friend "verboten"—to walk more than three abreast on the pavement, to swing walking sticks or umbrellas,
to talk loudly, whistle, sing, or shout, to drop cigar or cigarette ends, paper or fruit on the pavements, and to wear long skirts that produce dust. Nothing has been said so far about squeaking boots, or loud-ticking watches, but probably the German police have their eagle eye upon these evils and they will be abated in due course. Now, the fun of the whole thing is the fact that these rules will be enforced. No German law ever drops into desuetude. These rules will have as much force in fifty years' time as they have today unless they shall be categorically repealed, and they will be applied without discrimination or favor.—San Francisco Argonaut.

UNTOUCHED BY FATHER TIME

Mohammedans of the Thracian Plain Live Almost Exactly the Same Life as Their Ancestors.

The Turkish and other Mohammedan villagers from the Thracian plains are retracing backward the steps of their ancestors of five centuries ago, and leaving Europe to return to Asia. And the weird part of it is that in costume, conveyances and manner of life there has been practically no change in these five hundred years. The wheels of their long, narrow carts have spokes in them now, where they used to be solid wheels, and perhaps the rush matting that protects the family from the weather may be a little better woven. But the oxen or buffaloes that leisurely drag the household along, and the barefooted wife or the sandaled husband with the goad who pulls these lumbering animals by a string, and the primitive mode of life on their plodding journey, all belong to a bygone age.

BRUTAL FRANKNESS.

"My face is my fortune," said the

"Not if it happens to be his wife, unless it is from surprise."

NO SUCH LUCK.

"Yes, and how nice it would be for the community if some people would only reverse the rule and die before they sing."

MEXICANS AND NEGRO TROOPS

Have a Fight On Border Near Douglas, Arizona--American Officers Fired Upon.

El Paso, March 3.—In a running fight on the border near Douglas, Ariz., yesterday between Mexican soldiers and troopers of the Ninth United States cavalry, four Mexicans were killed. None of the American troops was killed or wounded, according to advices received here late yesterday.

Four American army officers, walking on the American line, three miles from Douglas, are reported to have been fired on by forty regular Mexican soldiers, who were patrolling the border out of Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas. Sixteen of the negro troopers of the Ninth rushed to the place of the firing and had a spirited skirmish.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; no cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured. Daily Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. P. J. CHENEY, & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

TIMELY RESOLUTIONS

Adopted By The State Farmers Institute at Paducah.

Before adjourning, the Farmers' State Institute which met at Paducah last week, passed several resolutions of importance.

The first resolution was that the state railroads be called upon to make the lowest possible rate on ground limestone for agricultural purposes.

The second resolution was that the farmers of the state are willing to pay the assessment of tax now imposed on farm lands but insist that all other property, including stocks and bonds and public franchises, be assessed in the same proportion as farm property, and that the assessing authorities be compelled to list all property in the state on the same basis.

The third resolution urges upon the next General Assembly that there will be no retrenchment in the support of our school system or in the agencies engaged in the development of agricultural pursuits in the state. That the next Assembly be urged to enact a law making the teaching of elementary agriculture and home economics a part of the required course of study in rural schools.

The fourth resolution requests Kentucky Senators and Representatives to support a bill making appropriations to enable the Department of Agriculture to co-operate with the Central States in eradicating hog cholera.

CALUMET BAKING SCHOOL.

Much Interest Manifested--Probably Resume the Latter Part of this Week at 316 S. Main St.

The attendance at the baking school sessions in Keach's Furniture Store was excellent. The interest shown by the ladies present will probably warrant the resumption of the work at some other location the last three days of the present week. The management has not yet decided upon a location, but it will probably be in the Hill Store at 316 South Main street, and full particulars of program, etc. will appear in the newspapers.

The accommodations furnished by the Keach Furniture Company, incorporated, were ample, and the Model Kitchen with the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet and Bohn Syphon Refrigerators and enameled tables made the work a pleasure for the demonstrators, while the results obtained from the fine elevated ovens of the Estate Ranges enabled them to easily bake sufficient cakes, biscuits, etc., to supply the large crowd in attendance. Mrs. Stanley states that she never used a better quality of gas, nor obtained finer results in baking than in the present school, with the appliances furnished by the Kentucky Public Service Company, incorporated.

In Washington Today.

The Democrats of this city were so happy when all doubts as to Gov. Wilson having been elected to the Presidency were removed many of them expressed their intention of going to Washington to see him inaugurated. During the past four months their enthusiasm cooled down considerably and today there are but five men from here in Washington to witness the inauguration, namely: O. C. Kingsoling, Hancock Higgins, Leslie Haydon, Leslie Henderson and A. H. Eckles.

"Sloan's Liniment surpasses anything on earth for lameness in horses and other horse ailments. I could not sleep without it in my stable."—MARTIN DOYLE, 432 West 19th St., New York City.

Good for Swelling and Abscess. Mr. H. M. Gibbs, of Lawrence, Kan., R. F. D., No. 3, writes:—"I had a mare with an abscess on her neck and one 60c bottle of Sloan's Liniment entirely cured her. I keep it all the time for galls and small swellings and for everything about the stock."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is a quick and safe remedy for hog cholera.

Governor of Georgia uses Sloan's Liniment for Hog Cholera. "I heard Gov. Brown (who is quite a farmer) say that he had never lost a hog from cholera and that his remedy always was a tablespoonful of Sloan's Liniment in a gallon of slops, decreasing the dose as the animal improved. Last month Gov. Brown and myself were at the Agricultural College building and in the discussion of the ravages of the disease, Gov. Brown gave the remedy named as unfailing."—"OBSERVER."

WORLD'S DEBT TO THE AGES

Modern Progress, Thoroughly Analyzed, Not So Much of an Improvement on the Past.

Not by a great deal are all the old-fashioned things admirable, but by no means are they all inferior and out of date because they are old-fashioned. The best of them we may strain all our modern resources to equal, and not do it. The best products of old-fashioned training and education are still models for contemporary seminaries. As far back as we can reach into the history of mankind we find great people, easily the equals, and often the superiors, of our very best in mental and moral qualities. Our good luck is not that we are superior to them in our human material, but that we have at our service an immensely greater accumulation of knowledge, mostly about material things. Thanks to that, we understand the laws of nature much better than our fathers did, and that has helped us to make wonderful machines, and put them to doing, after their fashion, what used to be done by fingers, brains, and brawn. But spiritually we got our highest inspiration two thousand years ago, and have been trying ever since to reach up to it; and mentally, though we use better tools, we are no better, surely, than Pythagoras or Aristotle or the author of the Book of Job and hundreds of thinkers who must have long preceded any of them.—E. S. Martin, in Harper's Magazine.

SALLY'S LOSS, LONDON'S GAIN

How Maid Servant Lost Husband and Wealth and City Became Possessed of Fine Hospital.

That bequests to individuals and to public benevolences are frequently the result of a mere whim or of caprice, has no better illustration, perhaps, than the case of Thomas Guy, who built and endowed the great Guy's hospital of London, at a cost of £238,292 nearly two hundred years ago. Guy had a maid servant of strictly frugal habits, who made his wishes her careful study. He resolved to make her his wife. The necessary preparations were made for the wedding; and among others many little repairs were ordered by Mr. Guy in and about his house. The latter included the laying of a new pavement opposite the street door. It so happened that Sally, the bride-elect, observed a piece of pavement beyond her master's house that required mending, and of her own accord she gave orders to the workmen to do this. This was done in the absence of Mr. Guy, who on seeing more work done than he had ordered was informed that the additional work had been done by the mistress's orders. Thereupon Guy told Sally she had forgotten her position, and added: "If you take upon yourself to order matters contrary to my instructions before we are married, what will you not do after? I renounce my matrimonial intentions toward you." So Sally lost a rich and grouchy husband and London gained a noble institution for her poor.

Woman's Story.

A lady wrote to 25 friends and told them she was giving a "white elephant" party, and that each guest was to come and bring the absolute most useless thing she possessed. And the whole 25 women turned up with their husbands!

Another lady was giving what is called a book tea—each guest to wear, pinned on her dress, something to represent the name of some book. The name of each book had been guessed, with one exception.

The lady who still puzzled everyone wore a photograph of her husband on her bodice. No one could guess the name of the book she intended the picture to represent, and after they had all given it up" she told them—"Life's Handicap."

Grotesque Names for Children.
Certain philanthropic Londoners have proposed a Guild of Godparents to save innocent children from the burden of grotesque names. Hundreds of examples of this poor form of parental wit occur in the birth registers for the past few years. Noah's Ark Smith, Sardine Box, Jolly Death, Judas Iscariot Brown, One-Too-Many Johnson, Not-Wanted Smith, Bovril Simpson, Merry Christmas Figgitt, Odious Heaton and Anno Domini Davis are the names of children probably living who will have to bear them through life.

Portuguese Jury Drew Lots.
A new method of administering justice was applied recently at Villa Franca de Xira in Portugal.

A prisoner was charged with counterfeiting, and as the jury were evenly divided and could not agree they determined to draw lots. Two pieces of paper were procured, one was inscribed "guilty" and the other "innocent." They were then folded up, shuffled, and one was then chosen by a jurymen.

It happened to be the one inscribed "guilty," whereupon the prisoner was sentenced to the maximum penalty.

Legal Point of View.

First Lawyer—I was looking over my boy's geometry lesson last night. I was quite interested in that proposition, that the three angles of a triangle are equal to two right angles.

Second Lawyer—That isn't very complicated.

First Lawyer—No, but I was trying to think what a man could do if he had the other side of the case.

LONG KNOWN TO MEDICAL MEN

Abundant Proof That the Operation of Trepanning is a Very Ancient One.

While the medical profession is agreed that some rough form of surgery must have existed from very ancient times, it has always been a matter of wonder that so complex and delicate an operation as trepanning should be also one of the oldest.

There is authentic record of this operation dating back to the time of Hippocrates, who wrote treatises on fractures, dislocations and wounds of the head, wherein he described the method of procedure to be followed in the case of a fractured skull. His idea was to cut away a piece of bone so that the pressure on the brain might be relieved.

The annals of this era also show that a file was used for this purpose which, at a time when modern anaesthetics were unknown, must have been, to say the least, painful.

According to Holmes, the operation of removing pieces of bone was performed long before historic times. The effects on the skull are easily seen after death and are visible as long as the bones are preserved. From inspection of certain skulls of the later stone age in ancient Britain there has been derived the conclusion that some of these had undergone the operation, which must have been performed with a stone implement.—Harper's Weekly.

HOT ONE

Miss Antique—I received an invitation to Mrs. De Swell's ball.
Miss Caustique—Indeed, who are you going to chaperone?

LET YESTERDAY ALONE.

Learn to let yesterday alone and you will have a happier life. There is nothing more miserable than to be perpetually having a parade of yesterday's misdoings.

Countermarching is never satisfactory. Even the things we felt were passable at first sight are disappointing when rehearsed.

If you have things to regret, do it once and for all.

You realize you could be sorry forever after for some of the acts of your life—but what's the use?

What an awful price people pay for the determination to "get square" with those they fancy have injured them! No matter what others do to us, every bit of retaliation, every bit of injury we do to them, every blow intended for another really wounds ourselves.

EXTENUATION.

"So Colonel Spriggins is dead?"

"Yes. He was a fine old gentleman."

"Always lived on terms of peace with his fellow men, I presume?"

"Always, except in campaign years, but I am sure the good Lord forgave him for what he said and did then."

HARD TO RATTLE.

"Pilkins is always calm and self-contained."

"So he is. I wonder what Pilkins would do if some one should run up behind him and yell 'Fire!' in his ear?"

"He would probably turn around with unruffled demeanor and say, 'I trust our efficient fire department will be able to extinguish the blaze.'"

HER INTENT.

"That dressmaker's model always wears a long wrap when she goes out."

"Hers is evidently a sinister motive. She wants to cloak her designs."

CAN'T DO A THING.

"What sort of man is Pickledorf?"

"Absolutely helpless without a corkscrew."

ELECTION

Of New Officers At Elks Lodge To-night.

A full attendance is desired at the regular meeting of Hopkinsville Lodge No. 545 B. P. O. to-night, this being the time for the regular election of officers for the year beginning April 1.

The election is expected to result in a series of promotions, as all of the chairs leading up to the chair of Exalted Ruler are most acceptably filled. The only contest will likely be for Esteemed Lecturing Knight. The lodge now has more than 300 members and is in a very flourishing condition.

PLAN TO CONSERVE THE SNOW

Scientists Have Discovered Its Importance in Relation to the Water Supply.

The attention of American meteorologists has been directed in recent years to the great importance of the winter snow fall in the mountains of semi-arid western states as a source of the water available for agricultural purposes or for motive power the following summer. A dual problem has been under investigation—the development of methods of measuring the volume of snow lying on the mountain slopes, as a means of predicting the amount of water it will yield, and the conservation of the snow by appropriate treatment of the forest cover. Among the interesting discoveries made in this connection is the fact that the ideal forest for snow conservation is one filled with glades whose area bears such proportion to the height of the trees that, while snow enters freely, the wind and sun cannot reach the bottom. The production of such glade by cutting and pruning, as well as by planting trees of suitable species, becomes, therefore, a part of forest practice in the regions in question. Aside from investigations by the weather bureau and other government institutions, this subject has been most actively studied by the excellent meteorological department of the University of Nevada, which is now planning to offer a special course for foresters on the relation of mountains and forests to the conservation of snow. An adjunct of this university is the well known meteorological observatory on Mount Rose.

ROYAL FAT BOY.

Prince Gustavus of Denmark, regarded as a stronger contender for the nebulous Albanian throne, is the sixth child of the late king of Denmark and a brother of the reigning king. King George of Greece is his uncle, and the dowager queen of England his aunt. Prince Gustavus is young, having been born in 1887. At eighteen he entered the army, where he is now a lieutenant in the life guards, and has lost none of the portliness which once gained for him the name of "the royal fat boy."

FLYNN'S PUBLIC SERVICES.

William J. Flynn, who has been appointed chief of the United States secret service, succeeding John E. Wilkie, resigned, has for years been in charge of the New York division of the secret service. He was brought prominently before the public in connection with his investigation of the sugar weighing frauds in New York.

EASILY PLEASED.

"How would you like to sleep in a room decorated by a world-famous artist?"

"I wouldn't mind it a bit, after the paint got dry."

FORESIGHT.

"I recommend for you, sir, a little change."

"Sorry I can't take it, doctor, but my wife's got all I had."

ACCOUNTING FOR IT.

"Mr. Baggs says you're a hatchet-faced woman."

"Humph! That's because I cut him the other day."

SURMISING.

"It's the little things of life that worry a man."

"Quite true. Some youngster been snowballing you?"

FRESH AIR IN TUBERCULOSIS

Old Idea That Exposure to Cold Was the Cause of Disease Proved to Be Incorrect.

Consumption is not contracted by exposure to cold. Cures are brought about in cold, dry climates. Some doctors contend that dust and badly-ventilated houses are the real cause of the disease. It is certain that these conditions discourage deep breathing. There is an unconscious shallowing of the breathing in order to protect the lungs from the foul air. The chest narrows and the skin bleaches.

An interesting item states that Doctor Bernheim of Paris has proven that the consumption death rate is inversely proportioned to the number of windows per head. In one ward he found the number of windows per head 4.2 and the tubercular death rate 1.3 per thousand. In another ward the number of windows was 1.8 per head and the death rate 8.2 per thousand. Persons living in the lower floors were found much more liable to tuberculosis than those occupying rooms in upper stories. The reason for this is obvious—in the lower apartments there is less fresh air, and often no sunlight.

MADE HIS REMARKS FELT

Willoughby Accepted Porter's Suggestion, and At Once Retired to Rear Platform.

Willoughby was nervously watching the time, and as the minutes passed, and it became evident that the train could not by any possibility reach its destination on time he turned viciously to the porter and began, angrily:

"Of all the dad-binged old heaps of junk this side of the earthquake belt this railroad of yours is without any exception the—"

"Excuse me, boss," said the porter, with a courteous wave of his whisk-broom toward the rear end of the train, "but dere's an observation cyar on de end ob diss yere train, suh, an' if ah might take de libbity ob makin' a suggestion, suh, you might go back dere, suh, an' make de observations now risin' in yo' midst. De presence ob ladies on diss yere cyar, suh, is mah excuse fo' makin' de suggestion."

Whereupon Willoughby retired to the rear platform and strewed his observations along the track with such effect that one of the ties was seen to be smoking long after the train had passed it.—Harper's Weekly.

FIND REDEEMING TRAITS.

You can find the redeeming trait in anyone if you look for it. A single feature may redeem a face; fine eyes may offset incorrigible hair, a faultily molded nose, a vacillating chin, an anemic complexion. Just so a single commendable element of character may offset lamentable shortcomings. When they can say nothing else that is good of a politician they aver that he is good to his mother, and in the eyes of many that condones manifold obliquities of precept and of conduct. A boy in school gave a great deal of trouble to his teachers. There seemed to be no way to reach the best that was in him. He did not seem to be interested in anything unless it had to do with malicious mischief. But they discovered by and by that he was interested in chicken raising. They gave him the care of poultry and it proved a great success both for the boy and for the hens. The one strong interest in life abolished a multitude of minor evils. It redeemed him for useful service.

NATURAL.

"My twenty-year-old son fusses so about his clothes."

"Well, in their salad days it is natural for young men to be particular about their dressing."

THE REAL THING.

"The farmer you told me of writes that he has the finest kind of butter on his farm."

"Don't go by that. It's his goat."

NARROW ESCAPE.

"I am glad, after all, I did not ring that bell."

"Why are you glad?"

"Because she was a false alarm."

AND YAWNING, TOO.

"Dr. Plummer has been known to preach two hours at a stretch."

"I guess his congregation did most of the stretching."

CUPBOARD FOR SILVER

PROPER RECEPTACLE HOUSEWIFE WILL APPRECIATE.

Adornments of the Table Must by No Means Be Kept "Anywhere"—Should Have Most Regular Care and Attention.

There is not the slightest doubt that a certain quantity of silver goods adds a wonderful charm to the appearance of a table—a charm which can be imparted in no other way. At the same time there is equal certainty that the possession of any quantity of silver means a very real addition to the domestic labors of the housewife. Few housewives, though, are there who do not prefer the additional labor rather than forego the pleasure of counting more or less silver among their household treasures.

Whenever there is the possible choice always buy silver goods as plain as possible—they are more costly than when elaborately chased and engraved, but they are also far less trouble to keep in order and look infinitely worth the extra value.

Because there is not enough silver, perhaps, to warrant the adoption of a silver pantry or great canteen, do not fall into the error of keeping silver "anywhere." If there is no small cupboard fixed in the house which can be used for the purpose, have a silver cupboard made—a good strong cupboard lined right through with green baize. With larger things—cups and bread baskets, cream-jugs, and so on—just stand them on the shelves of such a cupboard. Small cutlery things are better if kept in baize rolls, which are quite easily made. Take two strips of baize, one wider than the other. Join them together in envelop fashion, and stitch across in a succession of pockets. Slip a fork or spoon into each of the pockets, fasten the flap over with a couple of patent clips, and the result is a thing which will keep the silver much better than any baize-lined baskets. It is not wise as a rule to keep silver goods in satin or velvet-lined jeweler's cases, as frequently in time the color or friction of the lining affects the color of the silver.

Silver must be attended to regularly—not once in three months. Keep a special china or earthenware bowl for washing the silver in each time it is used. Simply make a good soap lather with boiling water, adding a tablespoonful of broken soda for every quart of water.

Three Good Recipes.

Lemon Sherbert.—The juice from eight lemons and one orange; grate the rind from one of the lemons and the orange also. Add four cups sugar, one pint cream, two quarts milk and freeze.

Peach Short Cake.—One cup sugar, a quarter cup butter, one egg, one cup milk, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder and a little salt. Bake in two layers and spread between and on top with peaches stewed down thick with plenty of sugar. Serve with whipped cream.

Norfolk Stew.—Take two and a half pounds of smoked ham, cut in small pieces. Cut off the fat and brown down with one onion; then put in the lean ham with a quart of tomatoes; add just enough water to cook. Cover and cook slowly two hours; if the ham is salt freshen first.

Jelly Roll That Will Not Break.

Six eggs beaten separately, very light; then mix and beat light together; add one scant cup sugar and beat some more. Fold in one scant cup flour with one level teaspoon baking powder. Flavor with lemon and vanilla. Bake 30 minutes, adding a pinch of salt last. Turn out on cloth wrung out of cold water. Beat the jelly slightly with fork so it can be quickly spread on with a butcher knife. Currant or blackberry jelly is best. Don't use tough jelly, as it is hard to spread. Roll quickly. Delicious and healthful.

Macaroon Coffee Custard.

One-half scant cup sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one large teaspoon corn starch, one cup milk, one cup very strong coffee, one egg slightly beaten, one dozen macaroons crumbed. Mix sugar, salt and cornstarch together, moisten with a little of the milk, add egg, mix thoroughly, then rest of liquid slowly, stirring to keep mixture smooth. Then add macaroon crumbs and cook in double boiler until thick. Serve cold.

Beef Tripe to Roast.

Boil two pounds tripe for an hour or more, then cut into convenient sized pieces. Spread them out and lay over each a rich veal stuffing. Skewer and tie securely into rolls. Baste continually with butter and dredge flour over them. They may either be spitted or baked in an oven. Serve with sliced lemon and unmelted butter. Time to roast, three-quarters of an hour. Sufficient for four or five persons.

Preserved Ginger.

Peel, wash and sprinkle with a little salt; let stand until juice is extracted or about two hours. Boil about five minutes. Have fruit jars and covers hot. Bottle and seal while still boiling. Will keep indefinitely.

Neapolitan Pudding.

Cut any kind of nice plain cake into slices, spread each slice with currant jelly and cover them with banana slices; put one tablespoonful of whipped cream, previously sweetened, on top of the bananas and serve.

TEN THINGS TO REMEMBER

Writer Herein Sets Forth What is Called the Decalogue of the Housewife.

Thou shalt not discard thy good dress because it is faded, but bleach to a pure white.

Thou shalt not pay out much money for corn plaster, because a salve of soda and lard will cure the very worst corn on thy toe.

Thou shalt not use damp fruit, or thy cake will be heavy, after washing the currants and raisins thou shalt be sure they are thoroughly dry.

Thou shalt not throw away sour cream, but use it in place of butter, when thou are baking.

Thou shalt not dry white gloves or hose in the sun, lest they turn yellow.

Thou shalt not discard thy rubber bag because of a hole, but fill with hot sand or salt, and 'twill give all the heat thou needest.

Thou shalt not let the juice ooze out from thy pie, because thou can prevent it by binding the edge with a strip of white cloth wrung out of cold water.

Thou shalt not pay large sums for dry cleaning, but thou shalt use "elbow grease" with cake of magnesia.

Thou shalt not allow cheese to mold, when a cloth wet in vinegar and put over it will prevent.

Thou shalt not use thy new baking dishes until after thou has put them in a pan of cold water, set it where it will boil, and then set away until water has cooled.—National Magazine.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Try cracking pecans nuts by placing them on end in the nut cracker. One vigorous crushing of the cracker will split the nut open through the center.

When heating flatirons, especially the kind with removable handles, turn an old pan or kettle over them as they are grouped together and they will heat much quicker and more evenly.

A tin pail will be found very useful to shut fish in before putting it in the icebox. Fish has a strong odor, which permeates other food, and should never be put in the icebox unless closely covered.

In ironing embroidered table napkins, iron them first on the right side, then on the wrong side and back on the right side, being careful not to press the embroidery design into the linen. Iron the embroidered corner over a soft cloth.

This is a very useful hint to clean lavatory basins, marble washstands, etc. Put some powdered bathbrick into an old saucer and add a little paraffin oil to moisten. With a soft rag rub the article to be cleaned with this mixture, then wash with warm water. You will find that all stains and dirt will disappear.

Parsley may be kept green and fresh all winter. Put it in a strong boiling hot brine of salt and water. Leave in a half hour and then hang it in a dry room with the blossoms down. Kept in this way it is as nice for flavoring soups, dressings, etc., as when it is freshly grown and gathered.

Pot Roasted Chicken.

Draw and clean one good sized chicken, rub on salt and pepper and dredge with flour, then truss it and lay on either side of the breast under the twine a strip of bacon. Put two tablespoons of butter and two of lard in a kettle and brown the chicken on all sides. Add one cup of boiling water, cover tightly and simmer two and a half or three hours, being careful not to let the water boil away, adding a little water from time to time. Remove the chicken when tender and superfluous fat from the gravy. Add as much water as required for the gravy and thicken with a little flour mixed with water. The gravy is greatly improved by adding a little sour cream. An old chicken can be made very palatable cooked in this way.

Shredded Orange Peel.

Four orange peels, cut them into strips like straws with an old pair of scissors; cover them with cold water and bring to a boil, then drain and cover with boiling water, and boil until tender; make a sirup the same as for the lemon rinds, put the shredded orange peel in this sirup and cook until transparent; dry on a sieve, and while drying dust occasionally with fine granulated sugar and pack away when dry in a box lined with wax paper. The sirup can be used for a sauce.—Farmers' Guide.

Rose Salad.

Boil five beets of uniform size, while hot pour cold water over them; drain and remove the skins; hollow out the centers with a sharp knife; cut the hollowed beets into petals, cutting down two-thirds of the way. In the centers drop a tablespoonful of mayonnaise dressing and around this arrange kernels of nuts. Serve on chilled lettuce leaves.

Panocha.

Three cups brown sugar, eight tablespoons of milk or cream, butter size of large walnut, boil until when tried in water it will form a waxy ball. Then remove from stove, add one tablespoon vanilla and beat five minutes, then add one-half cup or more of walnuts, cut in small pieces. Let cool and cut in small squares. Figs may be used instead of walnuts.

BRINGS OUT "POP" QUESTION

Young Man Inadvertently Alludes to Leap Year and Pretty Young Woman Drags Him Out.

"Well," he said, considering it high time that one of them broke the silence which was becoming dangerous, "this is the year 1913."

"Yes," she replied with a plaintive little sigh.

"Are you sorry?"

"Why should I be sorry?"

"There will not be another leap year until 1916."

"I hadn't thought of that."

"Of course I didn't mean to insinuate that there was any reason why you should care."

"Thank you."

"To a pretty, attractive girl leap year naturally means nothing."

"Why should you say that to me?"

"Your mirror ought to tell you."

"Do you really think so?"

"I wouldn't say so if I didn't think so."

"But you don't suppose I would avail myself of the privilege leap year is supposed to give a girl, even if I were unattractive, do you?"

"No, of course not."

"I can't understand why you should have brought up the subject."

"It just happened to pop into my mind."

"That word pop always amuses me."

"Does it? Then I'll repeat it as often as you like."

"Oh, thank you. Do you know, something told me when you came in that you were going to bring up the popping question this evening?"

NO DANGER FOR HIM.

"Some scientists claim a $10 bill will accumulate 89,000 microbes in two weeks."

"Don't worry me any. I never have one long enough for it to accumulate more than six or seven."

Where He Would Go.

"Do you believe," asked Mrs. A., "that wife beaters should be sent to the whipping post?"

"No, I really do not," answered Mrs. B.

"But suppose your husband should beat you—"

"In that case it would be inhuman to whip him—even after he got out of the hospital."

The Modern Philosopher.

"Remember, my boy," said the philosopher, "that the acquirement of riches is not the greatest measure of success."

"All right, dad. I'll keep that fact in mind."

"But don't overlook any chance to get the coin when you can do it without arousing the suspicions of a grand jury."

Invisible Injuries.

A very colored man who entered complaint against another for assaulting and battering him upon the head was before the magistrate.

"I don't see any marks," announced the judge.

"Does ye s'pose," said the prisoner with vehemence, "he hit me with a piece of chalk?"

Narrow Escape.

"Did you have the nerve to offer that waiter a 25 cent tip?"

"Yes."

"What did he say?"

"He came around later and told me that if I would give him $5 he would promise to say nothing about it to the head waiter and that I might continue to dine there in the future."

The Reason.

"It is said that Indians never laugh."

"I believe so."

"What is the explanation—or is there any?"

"Well, for one thing, their women never come out in the latest styles from Paris."

His Confession.

"Do you love me, Charles?" inquired the beautiful girl.

"Of course I do."

"Do you think only of me, by day and night?"

"Well I'll be frank with you. Now and then I think of baseball."

Cause For Wee.

"What's the baby crying about?"

"The nurse thoughtlessly told him that Shakespeare's plays are supposed by many to have been written by Bacon. Get him his Sanskrit blocks. They may divert his attention."

Devotion Demonstrated.

"So you think that man loves your daughter sincerely?"

"He must," replied Mr. Cumrox. "He will sit and listen to her piano playing by the hour."

Every Month Near Death.

Foster, Ark.—Mrs. Fannie Ellis, of Foster, says: "I was sick for seven years, and half the time could not stand on my feet. Every month I was very near death. I tried Cardui, and in two months, I was cured, and am now stout and healthy. My friends all ask me now what cured me. My looks are a testimonial to Cardui." RURAL TEACHERS BODY OF TRAMPS

Dr. Claxton Says They Change Districts Too Often.

RESULTS IN POOR TEACHING

Problem Must Be Solved if Real Strong Work Is to Be Done in Country Districts—Is Hurting Children's Chances. Just a Question or Two.

In a recent address at Louisville, Ky., Dr. P. P. Claxton, commissioner of education for the United States, stated that the rural teachers constituted the greatest body of tramps known. Over 50 per cent of them move to a new district each school year.

Don't take Dr. Claxton's word for it. Think of all the rural districts you know and see how close his assertion comes to fitting your own and your neighbor's situation on the teacher question. The main reason for so much poor teaching in the country districts is that the teacher does not stay long enough in any one locality to know either the children or their parents. If it is as difficult as it is for you to manage your child after having it with you every day during its whole life, how can the average teacher do even creditable work when she absolutely does not know your children? She merely has got a nodding acquaintance with them; she can call them by name.

This is every man's problem as well as the teacher's problem. It must be solved if we are to have real strong work done. What will you do with it? It is what is hurting your child's chance for an education that is worth while. GET BUSY.

Just a Question or Two.

IS YOUR SCHOOLHOUSE AS UP TO DATE AS YOUR NEW DAIRY BARN?

IS THE INTERIOR OF YOUR SCHOOL AS MODERN AS THAT NEW SILO?

IS YOUR TEACHER AS COMPETENT AS THAT TRAINER FOR YOUR COLTS?

IS THE SCHOOL AS WELL PAINTED AS YOUR CHURCH?

IS THE WATER AT THE SCHOOL AS CONVENIENT AND AS GOOD AS IT IS FOR THOSE YOUNG STEERS?

IS THE SCHOOLYARD AS BIG AS THE PASTURE WHERE YOU EXERCISE YOUR COLTS?

IS THE STOVE IN THE SCHOOL AS MODERN AS YOUR WIFE'S GASOLINE RANGE?

Aim high in your farm work. Shoot at the moon if you wish. Of course you will not hit the moon, but the chances are that you will scatter a lot of bird shot somewhere along the sky line.—Colonel Henry Exall, Texas Industrial Congress.

Do We Think For Ourselves?

Queer how many things in our life are inherited from the past and are accepted without a thought. We are afraid of storms, the dark and a thousand and one other things because our ancestors, who knew nothing of science, feared them.

We went to school and did our tasks in the good old fashioned way because that was the way our parents got their education. In thousands of schools scattered all over this enlightened country we are inflicting the same thing upon our children because of our habit of thought. Isn't it time for us to begin to view the child as something more than a receptacle for the three R's? Isn't school something bigger and better than we are trying to make the average country school? Doesn't real, pulsing life demand more, infinitely more, than it did 100 years ago? Doesn't life exist in the fields where crops are growing? Doesn't a problem exist except between the covers of a book? Is the geography of Africa as vital or as full of meaning as the brook that tumbles over rocks and mossy roots 100 yards from the schoolhouse door? Does any one really believe that the lock step studies without a break mean an education in its best and broadest sense?

No problem is solved in this little chat. Only a few questions are asked that most of us grownups don't think about. Put yourself in your child's place for a moment and see if your school building, the studies and the viewpoint are in step with all the advances that the world has made in the other activities of our varied life.

Health of the Child in School.

Do you eat breakfast every day? Do you drink coffee or tea? Do you have your bedroom window open or shut at night? Do you own a toothbrush?

These and other pertinent questions are to be answered by the children in the public schools of Minnesota. They form part of a "health grading outline" prepared by Dr. Ernest B. Hoag, special director of school hygiene for the state, whereby teachers and school nurses may learn in the most direct manner possible the physical condition of the children entrusted to their care.

"Rational conservation of the mental and physical health of our school children" is the ultimate ideal of this and other current health projects reported to the United States bureau of education.

MORE EXTRA VOTES DURING THIS WEEK

2000 Extra Votes Will Be Allowed With Each Dollar Turned In
By Saturday Night March 8.

THE WORKERS ARE HAVING SUCCESS.

But Few Votes Are Cast In This Issue.—Contestants Guarding
Their Reserve Strength.

The Kentuckian piano and diamond contest is now more than half over and the end is fast approaching. Contestants are working with a determination to win. All of them accomplished good work last week, and are starting this week with renewed energy.

Extra Votes This Week.

2000 extra votes will be allowed with each and every dollar paid on subscription between now and Saturday night March 8. This offer is larger than will be made again and contestants should take advantage of the opportunity. Don't fail to add to your reserve votes, this week. The time is so short that every possible effort should be made now while it is possible to get extra votes. Get busy and keep busy. Let this be your biggest week. Contestants should not become discouraged, keep working and your success will be more certain, and work will count more this week than at any other time. Let your friends know that you want their help this week.

Few votes were cast by the contestants in this issue. They prefer to hold them in reserve and they are not telling the number of votes they are holding in reserve.

ERECTING HIS OWN MONUMENT.

How Lester Bryant, the Boy Champion Corn Grower of Kentucky, Will Buy His Own Memorial With His Record Crop of Corn.

One very frequently hears the remark, "That fellow is erecting his own monument." No one in the Rockfield neighborhood last summer ever thought that Lester Bryant's record crop of corn would be the means of building him a memorial. No one watching a vigorous youngster put his life and soul into the work as he did could have foreseen such an event, and yet it the plans of the Hon. J. W. Newman carry, and they are sure to, the boy will have erected his own memorial.

LESTER BRYANT.

At the funeral of Lester Bryant a few days after his tragic death at Washington Mr. Newman outlined his plan to a few close friends. The plan was so unique and so easy of handling that it was soon after decided upon. Mr. Newman has bought Lester Bryant's crop of fine Kentucky tested, Boone County White seed corn from the boy's father and had Dr. Mutchler, the government expert in charge of the Boys' Corn club movement, pick out fifty bushels of extra seed corn. This carefully selected stock seed corn will be offered for sale as the Lester Bryant Strain of Boone County White. It will be sold at $1 per ear. All the money realized from the sale of this remarkable corn will be placed in bank at Frankfort to the credit of the Lester Bryant memorial fund. As there will probably be at least 8,500 ears in the fifty bushels of corn, a magnificent monument is sure to rise in the Bowling Green cemetery, where the boy is buried.

Kentucky's Boys' Corn Clubs.

The Boys' Corn club movement is only two years old in this state, and yet big things have been accomplished. The Corn club boys, several thousand of them, are enthusiastic; but better than enthusiasm are the results that have come from the work.

When the state champions met in Washington this winter with the experts who had charge of the work in the various states, there was naturally a feeling of intense rivalry. Twelve of the southern states that had been pushing the Boys' Corn club idea for several years, had records of 442 boys that had grown over 100 bushels on an acre. Alabama and Georgia each had over 100 boys with this record to their credit, but both of these states had been organized for club work for the past eight years. It is very gratifying to be able to write that Kentucky, with an organization of only two years, made a splendid record. Fifty-seven boys in Kentucky this past season grew over 100 bushels of corn to the acre. How many adult farmers did that well?

Take Off Your Hat TO The Myers

In the beginning of the season for spraying orchards and white-washing out-buildings, fences, etc., we wish to call your attention to the Myers Spray Pump. One of the special features of this pump is a clamping device, by means of which it is attached to the top of the barrel. The cylinder is made of a solid brass tube with closed end. It is adapted to pumping any kind of mixture, hot or cold, and it surpasses anything we know of for white-washing. Demonstrations have been made in nearly every community proving that spraying is profitable with all orchards and many gardens. Why not try it to your own satisfaction?

We carry three sizes of these pumps in stock.

$3.75, $10.00 and $15.00

Complete with extension rod and nozzles.

We also have in stock Lime Sulphur Solution and arsenate of lead. The best results are obtained by spraying with Lime Sulphur Solution while the trees are in a dormant state.

DR. BEAZLEY
Specialist
(Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat)

Death of Richard Boyd.

Mr. Richard Boyd died yesterday morning at his home on the Barnett farm, near the Butler road, aged about 43 years. He is survived by his wife and two children.

A few days since, while preparing to burn a plant bed he received a scratch on his face. The scratch developed into a bad case of erysipelas, which caused his death. The remains will be brought here today for burial in Riverside Cemetery.

Mr. Boyd, until recently, was in the saw mill business and was well known in the county. He was generally known as "Bud" Boyd and had many friends.

"Baby Mine."

There will be plenty of honest laughter at the Opera House March 11, when "Baby Mine," under the direction of William A. Brady, Ltd., and coming direct from its eight weeks' engagement at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, will be the attraction. "Baby Mine" is considered the funniest play ever written, and is putting a girle of laughter around the world. It ran for one solid year at Daly's Theatre New York, is now in its second year in London, at the Criterion Theatre. Young Mr. Alfred Hardy and his equally young wife have a tiff because she innocently joins a mutual friend named Jimmy Jinks at a restaurant lunch for two. Jimmy's name is kept out of the affair, but Alfred determines to teach his wife a lesson by leaving her. To bring him back, Jimmy, Mrs. Jinks and the abandoned little wife put their heads together and hit upon the scheme to bring back the wandering husband. Then comes no end of complications and amusing situations before the tangle is finally unravelled.

Consumers Paid It.

Hard coal companies increased the wages of their employes $4,000,000 after the strike agreement of last May and increased the price of anthracite to the consumers $18,450,000.
